AA Mrs. Stickle is my bus driver, and I think she should be the bus driver of the year.

To begin with what she tells us to do to be safe is sit down and do not turn around. She probably tells us to sit down so when she stops our necks. That would really hurt! You should never turn around on the bus! If you turn around you can fall out of your seat.

Next she is very nice because she says stuff like have a good day and be careful when you get off. When she says have a good day, it makes me feel happy. When she says that I say "You too." The reason she says be careful is because she doesn't want us to trip and fall on the concrete. She is very caring to say that.

Finally she moves us because we don't like the people we sit with or if there is no room in the seat. People can be mean but Mrs. Stickle knows what to do about it. She always wants us to have a nice ride home. She'll move us if it's too crowded. There can only be two or three people in each seat.

That is why I want Mrs. Stickle to be the bus driver of the year.
